The following paragraphs & the spreadsheet on page 4 apply to Recertification Applicants ONLY:

List any specific I&R related training programs, workshops and seminars completed in the last two years. Ten hours of training (not necessarily Continuing Education Units or CEUs, although these would also be eligible) within the last 2 years are required for Recertification.

I&R specific training includes any material specific to your job in I&R that enhances your skills or knowledge of I&R. The AIRS Performance-Based Competencies available at www.airs.org/StudySuggestions will assist you in determining applicability.

Examples of specifically I&R-related training topics:

- Specific I&R-related workshops offered at conferences provided by AIRS or an AIRS affiliate.
- Topics enhancing your knowledge base of your community resources, such as mental health, domestic violence, financial and food security, disabilities, special populations, etc.

• Topics enhancing your skills in I&R, such as dealing with difficult people, providing advocacy, crisis intervention, confidentiality, diversity training, assessment, documentation, etc.

In general, training not accepted are those related to skills and positions not involved in I&R, such as management/administration or non-I&R software training. Remember, recertification does not require the same 30-day receipt of application that applies to initial certification. However, applications should be received in the AIRS office prior to expiration of the current certification.

Disclaimer for all Applicants (New, Retake and Recertification):

- The undersigned understands that the AIRS Certification Program is voluntary and subject to a proctored examination, and participation in or completion of this process will not guarantee certification.
- It is understood that the full certification fee is non-refundable and non-transferable.
- The AIRS Certification Program will provide written notification to those candidates who do not meet the eligibility requirements or do not pass the examination. The results of the eligibility assessment review and the examination itself are confidential and the undersigned agrees that neither AIRS, its officers, members nor other persons involved in the AIRS Certification Program shall be held liable for the failure of any candidate to receive Certification.
- A list of recommended study materials is available on the AIRS Web site (www.airs.org/StudySuggestions) for review. Some study resources are available as free downloads (such as the AIRS Standards, the professional competencies and selected articles) while others (such as the AIRS I&R Training Manual and AIRS online training) are available for purchase. These materials and the tests themselves are available only in English.
- In order to be eligible to take the examination, AIRS requires at least 1 full year of employment in I&R for applicants with a Bachelor's degree or higher, 2 years of employment in I&R for applicants with an Associate's degree, and 3 years of employment in I&R for applicants with a High School diploma or GED. Applicants who lack the academic qualifications listed, require 5 full years of I&R employment. Acceptable related experience entails work in the field of human services which may include positions in social work, discharge planning, consumer credit counseling, community health nursing, independent living skills instruction, education counseling; or employment in a homeless or domestic abuse shelter, food bank, group home or other similar settings. A copy of your degree/diploma or an educational transcript is required in order to take the examination according to the above timetable. Insufficient time to obtain a copy of your degree/diploma or transcript is not an acceptable reason and will result in denial of your application.
- AIRS complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and other applicable legislation by offering candidates with documented disabilities the opportunity to request necessary aids and services that do not fundamentally alter the assessment process. Please contact the AIRS office to request assistance. Applications for accommodations must be submitted at least 45 days prior to your scheduled examination date.
- Part-time staff and volunteers are required to have at least 1,000 hours of service to be equivalent to one year of employment (i.e., an individual with a Bachelor's degree would require 1,000 hours of volunteer or part-time hours while an individual with no academic qualifications would require 5,000 hours of volunteer or part-time experience).
- Information and referral practitioners are eligible for certification only for the jobs they actually perform. It is not the intent of AIRS for Certification to be used as a sole condition of employment.
- You will receive an exam communication email and letter approximately 10-14 days prior to your exam date. If you do not receive this communication, call or email certification@airs.org the AIRS National Office immediately.
- Recertification is required every 2 years. In order to qualify, the certified individual must document the fact that they have received at least 10 hours of training and professional development in the field of information and referral. A second examination is not required for recertification unless the individual has allowed their certification to lapse beyond the expiration date noted on their certificate.
